Description

Antique 20th century Edwardian set of six oak dining chairs, a handsome and well-crafted suite offering both comfort and timeless period appeal. Well made and of good quality, this attractive set consists of four single dining chairs and two matching carver chairs, making it ideal for both everyday dining and formal occasions. Each chair features a generously padded back and seat upholstered in an attractive brown material, possibly leather, giving the set a warm and inviting appearance. Decorative metal studding enhances the upholstery, adding a classic finishing touch that complements the Edwardian design. Raised on elegantly turned legs united by sturdy stretchers, the chairs are both stylish and robust. Crafted from quality oak, the frames display gorgeous natural grain and a rich, mellow colour throughout. The solid construction is evident in every chair, with all frames remaining firm and free from unwanted movement, reflecting the excellent standard of craftsmanship and ensuring they are ready for everyday use. Presented in good condition, this desirable set of Edwardian dining chairs combines practicality, comfort and enduring style. A versatile suite with plenty ...
