Description

Antique 19th century Victorian armchair in rosewood, a beautifully proportioned and elegant piece that perfectly showcases the refined styling of the Victorian period. Very well made and of good quality, this attractive armchair combines comfort with outstanding decorative appeal, making it a wonderful addition to a living room, study or bedroom. The chair is upholstered in a striking red fabric, providing a beautiful contrast against the rich tones of the rosewood frame. Raised on elegantly turned legs fitted with original castors, it offers both stability and ease of movement. The frame is beautifully carved throughout with a high level of attention to detail, reflecting the quality and craftsmanship invested in its construction. The rosewood displays gorgeous natural grain and a deep, warm colour throughout, giving the chair exceptional character and visual appeal. The combination of the beautifully carved frame, elegant proportions and vibrant upholstery makes this a particularly desirable example of Victorian furniture. Presented in good condition, this handsome Victorian armchair is both decorative and comfortable. A timeless piece with enduring elegance, it would...
