Description

A unique and exceptionally fine Sèvres porcelain tazza / footed compote with an elegant scalloped rim, dated 1835, from the Louis-Philippe period. The piece is made of hard-paste porcelain, featuring a pristine white interior that strikingly contrasts with the vivid blue exterior ground. It is adorned with rich hand-applied gilding—specifically, elaborate foliate scrolls and floral sprays framing the reserves, and a delicate gilded floral wreath encircling the base. The underside bears the green Louis-Philippe royal cipher ('LP') mark under a crown for 1835, together with the handwritten titles of the two views: Montlhéry and Mont-Blanc. The importance of this piece lies not only in the royal Sèvres mark and early 1835 date, but in the extremely rare combination of features: the elegant scalloped tazza form, blue ground, intricate gilded ornament and two named topographical landscape views. This is not a standard service plate, but a refined decorative object of very high quality. One reserve depicts Montlhéry, with houses, snow-covered roofs, trees and small figures in the foreground. The other depicts Mont-Blanc, with a wooden building, trees and an alpine mountain b...
