Description

A beautifully made early 19thc Regency fruitwood lidded cup and cover, probably used as a very smart pomander.....carved and pierced and then decorated with many different types of patterns....swirls, chevron, leaf...to mention a few....but you just have to admire the skill and craftsmanship of the maker...he certainly was using this piece to showpiece what he could do....lovely colour that you find with fruitwood and in fine condition with no restoration. English. C1800-20.
