Description

This is an elegant early 19th century sideboard from the late Regency period circa 1800. The sideboard has a lovely colour with a very attractive grain to the flame mahogany veneers. There are two deep drawers to the frieze with a shallow central drawer all with period brass Regency style handles. The sideboard has solid mahogany turned legs raised on the original brass cap castors. The top surface is a good colour and nice patina with the odd age related mark as per the age and history of the piece. This is a very neat size with nice proportions measuring 138 cms in length 86 cms high and 60 cms deep. UK delivery can be arranged with our trusted furniture courier and costs £70 plus vat to most destinations.
