Description

Antique 20th century large chest of drawers in mahogany, an impressive and unusually proportioned piece displaying fine craftsmanship and exceptional practicality. Very well made and of fine quality, this substantial chest offers an abundance of storage while retaining an elegant and timeless appearance. Its uncommon size and configuration make it a particularly rare and desirable example. The chest is fitted with nine drawers in total, arranged as three drawers across the top with six larger drawers below, providing generous storage for clothing, linens or household essentials. Every drawer retains its original decorative brass handles, adding to the authenticity and charm of the piece. Raised on traditional bracket feet, the chest has a strong and well-balanced stance that perfectly complements its classic design. Beautifully decorated with mahogany cross-banding throughout, the cabinet showcases the skill of the craftsman and the quality of the materials used. The richly coloured mahogany displays gorgeous natural grain with warm, inviting tones across every surface, while the attractive proportions and unusual layout give the chest a distinctive presence that sets it ...
