Description

Antique 20th century Edwardian Welsh dresser in oak, a charming and practical piece that perfectly combines traditional country styling with everyday functionality. Well made and of good quality, this attractive dresser offers generous storage and display space, making it an ideal addition to a kitchen, dining room or living area. The upper section is fitted with two open shelves, providing an excellent display area for china, glassware or decorative pieces. Beneath are two useful drawers retaining all of their original handles and fittings, while the lower section incorporates a spacious double-door cupboard offering ample concealed storage for crockery, tableware or household essentials. Raised on elegant turned legs united by a sturdy supporting stretcher, the dresser has a light and well-balanced appearance that reflects the character of Edwardian furniture. The oak displays gorgeous natural grain and a rich, warm colour throughout, giving the piece plenty of character and timeless appeal. Its pleasing proportions, quality construction and original fittings make it a particularly desirable example. For ease of transport and installation, the dresser separates neatly...
