Description

19th Century Italian Carrara Marble Sculpture of Sleeping Putto We are pleased to offer this finely carved mid nineteenth century Italian Grand Tour marble sculpture. A sleeping putto reclining upon a cushioned divan with draped fabric and tassel details. Carved from Carrara marble, the sculpture captures the gentle naturalism characteristic of 19th-century Neoclassical taste. The child rests peacefully with one arm draped across a cushion, the relaxed pose and softly modelled features conveying a quiet sense of repose. Height: 35 cm (13.8 in) Width: 35 cm (13.8 in) Depth: 33 cm (13 in) Offered in good original condition.
