Description

Fine Napoleon I Period French Mahogany Console Table with Variegated Marble Top A handsome and well-proportioned early 19th century French mahogany console table of the Napoleon I period, retaining its original variegated black marble top above two frieze drawers. Raised on bold S-scroll uprights with finely carved volute terminals and joined by a full lower platform shelf, the table has strong architectural presence and excellent decorative appeal. The rich figured mahogany displays beautiful colour and depth, complemented by the striking fossil-pattern marble top. Elegant yet practical, this versatile piece works equally well as a console table, centre table, or impressive hall table, and reflects the strong classical lines associated with the French Empire period. French, circa 1805–1815. Dimensions Height: 86 cm Width: 131 cm Depth: 54 cm Condition Good antique condition with age-related wear consistent with use and period, including some veneer wear and rubbing to the base, edges, and supports, surface marks, and general wear to the polish. The marble top presents well overall with expected minor signs of age.
