Description

Beautiful nest of 3 mahogany Georgian tables with curved stretcher supports and graduated ringed turned legs. Circa 1780 - 1800. With a couple of hairline cracks which is not uncommon with tables of this age where the tops were not particularly thick due to the cost of the imported luxury wood such as mahogany that became the premier status timber for fine furniture. However these cracks are barely noticeable and of no consequence. Size of largest table - Height - 73cm / 28.5" Top - 47cm x 30.5cm / 18.5" x 12"
