Description

Rare 17th-Century Middle England Historical Vellum Manuscript Dated 1669 Brief Description: This is an extremely rare and fascinating original 17th-century English manuscript, handwritten on vellum and dated 1669. The document features extensive period script throughout, with further handwritten inscriptions to the verso. A remarkable survivor dating from the reign of King Charles II, the manuscript offers a tangible glimpse into life in Restoration England more than 350 years ago. The vellum has acquired a wonderful natural patina, with age-related creasing, discolouration and character entirely consistent with a document of this considerable age. It is beautifully presented within a later 19th-century glazed decorative frame, allowing this important historical document to be displayed and appreciated as a striking piece of English history. Attributes: Manuscript on Vellum English Circa/dated: 1669 Condition: The vellum has acquired a wonderful natural patina, with age-related creasing, discolouration and character entirely consistent with a document of this considerable age. Framed Measurements: INCHES & CENTIMETRES Height: 11.5" | 29.2 cm Width: 22.5...
