Description

This is a good 19th century taxidermy stag's head, full mount, on a solid oak shield dating from around 1890. The head is in really good condition and well presented with the animal having a good set of 6 point antlers. This is a great showpiece of nice scale measuring 130 cms high overall. The antlers are 64 cms in width and this is 66 cms in depth from the wall. The oak shield measures 54 cms by 40 cms wide. UK delivery can be arranged with our trusted furniture courier and costs £65 plus vat to most destinations.
