Description

Antique French Rococo Silver-Plated & Ribbed Glass Liqueur Decanter – Late 19th Century A charming and highly decorative late 19th-century French Rococo-style liqueur decanter, featuring a beautifully ribbed glass body with an ornate silver-plated head and handle. The elegant Rococo-inspired design combines the textured ribbed glass with decorative silver-plated detailing, creating a distinctive and sophisticated piece of antique barware. The silver plate shows areas of wear and rubbing consistent with age and use, giving the piece an attractive aged appearance and adding to its antique character. Dating: Circa late 19th century Height: 12 inches Width: 7.5 inches Depth: 3.5 inches Condition Very good overall antique condition and structurally sound. The silver plating has worn in places, with areas of rubbing and loss revealing the underlying metal, consistent with age and previous use. There are also minor surface marks, scratches and age-related imperfections to the glass and metalwork. Please carefully review all photographs, as they form an important part of the description and accurately show the condition of the piece. Pleas...
