Description

17th Century, Oil on Canvas, Holy Face of Jesus on Veronica's Veil (Spanish). Canvas, with edges glued to board. The composition features the visage of Christ with dark hair and a beard, centrally displayed upon a golden, draped cloth or shroud held by corners against a dark, contrasting background. Such devotional pieces - often associated with Spanish or Flemish Baroque traditions (such as the circle of Francisco de Zurbarán or Philippe de Champaigne) - symbolise the miraculous imprint of Christ's face. CONDITION: For 400+ years old, this oil on canvas is in remarkable condition. Some minor scratches to canvas. Would benefit from cleaning, and would look stunning in a gilt frame. The very edges of this canvas have been glued to a board, presumably to stabilise and preserve the canvas. PROVENANCE: Purchased from a Monastery in Barcelona, Spain.
