Description

DESCRIPTION A good quality George II mahogany chest of drawers, dating from the mid-18th century, with pleasing colour. The rectangular moulded top sits above four graduated long drawers, the upper corners with an inverted/canted detail which gives the chest additional architectural interest. The drawers are fitted with attractive pierced brass handles and backplates. The chest stands on bracket feet and retains a pleasing finish. The quality of the piece is reflected in the oak-lined drawers and oak backboards. A handsome and practical Georgian chest of good proportions. DIMENSIONS Height: 88 cm Width: 99 cm Depth: 56 cm CONDITION Good, solid antique condition overall. The chest retains its original finish, which has acquired considerable character through age and use. There are various historic marks to the surface, including water and ink staining, together with the expected minor knocks, scratches and wear. There are no significant cracks, splits or warping. The bracket feet are original, all four drawer locks remain present, and the old replacement handles pass through the original handle holes. The drawers all run smoothly and the chest remains very practical fo...
