Description

A classic antique 9ct rose gold Albert bracelet, beautifully designed with graduated curb links ranging from approximately 5mm to 8mm wide. Each solid link is stamped 375 and joined to a traditional swivel fastener, ensuring both style and security. Dating from around 1910, this elegant bracelet was crafted by E. Whitehouse & Son of Vyse Street, Birmingham — a renowned maker of fine gold jewellery. It has been carefully cleaned and polished in our workshop and remains in excellent antique condition. Details: Metal: 9ct Rose Gold Dated: Circa 1910 (Pre-1932) Stamped: 375 Maker's Mark: EW&S (E. Whitehouse & Son, Birmingham) Weight: 22.6 grams Length: 20cm / 7¾ inches (approx.) Links: 5mm to 7mm wide (approx.) Condition: Excellent, Antique. This timeless bracelet is a fine example of early 20th-century craftsmanship — a substantial and versatile piece that can be worn alone or layered with other antique gold favourites.
