Description

A beautifully delicate antique five-stone ring, featuring a classic row of old-cut diamonds and rich pink-red rubies. The design showcases three sparkling diamonds alternating with two vibrant rubies, all bezel rim set within an elegant scalloped gallery. Crafted in 18ct yellow gold, the ring has gently tapered shoulders that lead into a smooth, comfortable band. Inside, it bears clear hallmarks for 18CT along with the maker's mark H.W.LD, attributed to Henry Williamson Ltd, adding to its authenticity and collectable appeal. Despite its age, this piece remains in excellent condition, making it a timeless choice for both everyday wear and antique jewellery collectors.
