Description

A charming silver brooch, dating to the latter part of the Victorian era. This interesting example likely originates from Scotland and could be worn as a bar brooch or small kilt pin. The oval body is of sterling silver, with intricate acanthus leaf engraving to the front. There are two wonderfully carved pieces of banded agate, with a lovely natural colouring. An unusual example, both wearable and collectable. Dimensions below. Postage and packing :- £10.00 UK - Royal Mail special delivery, with display box included. £18.00 Europe £22.00 Outside Europe (USA will require an additional 10% tariff charge) Condition :- Excellent, with no damage to the silver. There are some natural flaws to the reverse of one stone, which are not visible when worn. This is photographed for clarity. Hallmarks :- Unmarked, tests as silver. Origin :- Scottish. Date :- Circa 1880. Height :- 1.6 cms. Width :- 4.5 cms. Depth :- 0.8 cm.
