Description

Antique 19th century Victorian hall stand in mahogany, an impressive and highly practical piece that combines elegant period styling with an abundance of useful storage. Very well made and of good quality, this handsome hall stand would make a striking and functional feature within any entrance hall or reception area. The upper section is fitted with seven hanging hooks, providing ample space for coats, hats and other everyday essentials, with a central mirror adding both practicality and decorative appeal. Beneath is a useful storage compartment, while two dedicated umbrella compartments, positioned one on either side, complete the thoughtfully arranged design. Raised on traditional bun feet, the hall stand has a sturdy and well-balanced presence. The mahogany displays gorgeous natural grain and a rich, warm colour throughout, giving the piece tremendous character and highlighting its elegant Victorian design. Its generous proportions, quality construction and versatile arrangement make this a particularly desirable example, offering an excellent combination of storage and period charm. Presented in good condition, this attractive Victorian hall stand is both decorative...
