Description

Antique 20th century linenfold cupboard in oak, a handsome and beautifully detailed piece that combines traditional craftsmanship with practical everyday storage. Very well made and of good quality, this attractive cupboard is richly decorated throughout and would make a wonderful addition to a hallway, dining room, living space or bedroom. The cupboard is fitted with a useful upper drawer retaining its original handle's and fittings, while beneath is a spacious double-door cupboard offering excellent enclosed storage for a variety of household items. Raised on a sturdy plinth base, it has a substantial and well-balanced appearance that complements its traditional design. The front is beautifully carved throughout with classic linenfold decoration, showcasing the quality of the workmanship and adding depth and character to the piece. The oak displays gorgeous natural grain and a rich, warm colour throughout, perfectly complementing the carved detail and giving the cupboard a timeless appeal. Presented in good condition, this highly desirable oak cupboard is both decorative and functional. A fine example of 20th-century furniture with enduring character, it offers generous...
