Description

Antique 20th century Edwardian writing table in mahogany, a beautifully proportioned piece that combines elegant period styling with excellent practicality. Very well made and of good quality, this handsome writing table would make a wonderful addition to a study, library or living room, offering both generous workspace and useful storage. The table is fitted with three drawers to the front, arranged as one on either side with a larger central drawer, each retaining its original decorative brass handles. It also comes complete with a key, preserving its authentic character. Raised on elegant cabriole legs with finely carved knees, the table has a graceful and refined appearance that perfectly reflects the quality of Edwardian design. The mahogany displays gorgeous natural grain and a rich, warm colour throughout, with attractive figuring that enhances the beauty of the timber. Its elegant proportions, quality construction and tasteful detailing make this a particularly desirable example, equally suited to both period and contemporary interiors. Presented in good condition, this attractive Edwardian writing table is both decorative and highly functional. A timeless piece ...
