Description

Victorian Thuya & Ebonised Pedestal Desk with Ivory Inlay & Wedgwood Plaques (Jackson & Graham) A magnificent Victorian pedestal desk in the manner of Jackson & Graham, crafted in luxurious thuya wood, richly ebonised, and embellished with ivory inlay and Wedgwood plaques. This highly decorative desk is made in three parts, typical of elite 19th century cabinetmaking, allowing ease of movement while preserving its architectural presence. The desk displays exceptional craftsmanship: finely executed marquetry, classical motifs, cameo style medallions, and gilt accents that echo the celebrated aesthetic of Jackson & Graham's most prestigious commissions. The raised superstructure with small drawers, the bold pedestals, and the refined brass gallery all contribute to a piece of furniture that is both functional and artistically significant. This is a rare opportunity to acquire a desk of museum level quality, combining exotic timbers, refined ornamentation, and the unmistakable influence of one of Britain's greatest design partnerships. Jackson & Graham & Designer Owen Jones Jackson & Graham were among the most important Victorian cabinetmakers, active from the early ...
