Description

This is a really beautiful large Chinese watercolour of exceptional quality and detail, beautifully painted in colourful watercolours on a silk panel. The painting has a delightful flowing form and subtle use of colour depicting the two fine asiatic pheasants in a beautiful cherry blossom tree entwined with fuschia and chrysanthemums. This is a most attractive and accomplished work by the artist which is signed with six character mark and red character stamp. This is a Qing dynasty painting from around 1890 and is mounted in a tasteful plain frame which appears to have been done in the very early 20th century. The watercolour is in lovely condition and is a great size measuring 91 cms high by 37 cms wide. UK insured packing and delivery is £20
