Description

This is a very high quality entirely original early Victorian writing desk by renowned furniture makers Johnstone & Jeanes. The whole table is beautifully made with warm mahogany throughout, pedestal side supports, turned centre stretcher, elegantly carved feet and support. Two concealed drawers one bearing the stamp 'Johnstone & Jeanes 67 New Bond Street London'. The stand out feature to me though is the patinated black leather top with shaped corner and fabulous Greek key tool work around the entire boarder. Overall condition is very good with expected aged patina but no major faults. Johnstone & Jeanes was a premier 19th century London cabinet maker. Operating from 67 New Bond Street. Johnstone & Jeanes served an elite, aristocratic clientele and exhibited at major international exhibitions before evolving into Johnstone & Norman in 1885. Height 76cm Height to underside 66cm Width 115cm Depth 65cm
