Description

Regency Flame Mahogany Breakfast Table Item Code: LC1453 A striking Regency period flame mahogany breakfast table, circa 1820, featuring a superb circular top veneered in richly figured flame mahogany arranged in a dramatic radial pattern. The top tilts vertically when not in use, displaying the exceptional figuring of the timber to particularly good effect. The table is raised on a substantial faceted central column with moulded collar, above a shaped concave triangular platform base terminating in three finely carved gadrooned bun feet. The restrained architectural form and exceptional choice of veneers are characteristic of high-quality Regency cabinetmaking. A particularly decorative and generously proportioned table, equally suited for use as a breakfast, dining or centre table. Key Features * Regency period, circa 1820 * Superb flame mahogany veneers * Circular tilt-top design * Radially arranged figured mahogany top * Faceted pedestal column * Shaped triangular platform base * Three carved gadrooned bun feet * Generous 153 cm diameter * Fine quality and highly decorative appearance
