Description

George III Inlaid Mahogany Sideboard A handsome and elegant George III period mahogany sideboard of refined proportions, having a shaped top with raised back rail above a bow-front central drawer and two further drawers to each pedestal. The rich mahogany is attractively figured and enhanced with fine boxwood stringing throughout. Raised on slender square tapering legs, this piece has a light and graceful appearance while still offering useful storage. The bowed central section and neat inlaid detailing give it a smart, balanced look, making it well suited to both traditional and contemporary interiors. A versatile and decorative late 18th-century piece, ideal for use as a sideboard, serving table or large hall table.
