Description

A well-kept Georgian mahogany wine cooler of elegant, understated form, complete with its original interior and practical twin-section layout. The brass carry handles and turned drawer pulls add just enough formality without tipping into grandeur, and both compartments retain working locks. The piece stands on square tapered legs finished with brass cup castors, giving it the easy movement these were designed for. A tidy, honest example with a pleasing depth of colour and the kind of simple refinement that works anywhere. Condition Report: Excellent antique condition throughout. The keys are later replacements, and the drawer lock appears to be a period but later addition. One drawer pull has a tiny loss to the lower backplate, and there is a minor loss to the boxwood stringing at the rear, neither of which detract. Structurally sound, clean, and ready to use. The photographs form part of the condition report, so please review them carefully. Further images or a video viewing can be provided on request. Viewings are welcome at our Southampton unit, strictly by appointment. If you have any questions regarding this piece, please don't hesitate to get in touch.
