Description

A charming and wonderfully functional 19th-Century apprentice chest, scaled down but beautifully proportioned. This two-over-three drawer configuration mirrors full-sized furniture, with beaded drawers, turned knobs and bracket feet on the stiles giving it all the presence of a larger piece - just in miniature. Perfectly suited to life on a dressing table or sideboard, it makes an excellent storage piece for jewellery, sewing accessories, keepsakes, fossils, coins, or any other curios. These apprentice pieces have a real following, and this one has that rare mix of style and practicality. Condition Report Excellent usable condition with minor age-related marks. Still holds a few odds and ends from its previous owner - mostly costume jewellery - which I've left in. A nice little touch of history. The photographs form part of the condition report, so please review them carefully. Further images or a video viewing can be provided on request. Viewings are welcome at our Southampton unit, strictly by appointment. If you have any questions regarding this piece, please don't hesitate to get in touch.
