Description

A well-designed Early 20th-Century mahogany music or display cabinet of strong proportions and excellent usability. The central glazed cupboard encloses three shelves, flanked by open display compartments arranged with an arcaded pillar configuration. Above, a stepped top provides an ideal surface for larger decorative objects, while below sit a pair of generous drawers offering practical enclosed storage. The cabinet stands on slender Queen Anne cabriole legs, giving the piece lift and balance despite its storage capacity. A versatile and visually confident Edwardian display piece, equally suited to books, ceramics, or decorative collections. Condition Report In excellent antique condition with minor wear consistent with age and use. Structurally sound and clean throughout. The photographs form part of the condition report, so please review them carefully. Further images or a video viewing can be provided on request. Viewings are welcome at our Southampton unit, strictly by appointment. If you have any questions regarding this piece, please don't hesitate to get in touch.
