Description

Antique 20th century French side table in mahogany, an elegant and characterful piece with a distinctly French influence. Its graceful proportions and combination of warm mahogany with decorative metalwork give the table a particularly attractive appearance. A generously sized drawer provides useful concealed storage and is complemented by beautiful metal embellishments. Decorative carrying handles can be found on either side, while a raised gallery surrounds the top and adds further interest to the design. The table is supported by beautifully turned legs, completing its refined silhouette. The mahogany displays gorgeous natural grain and a rich, warm colour, which pairs beautifully with the decorative fittings. Well made and of good quality, the table is a versatile size for use beside a sofa, in a hallway, bedroom or living space. Presented in good condition, this very desirable French side table would make a perfect addition to any home.
