Description

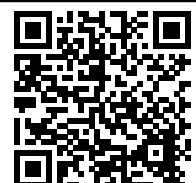

A particularly attractive antique oak altar or communion table of Welsh chapel origin, with extensive Gothic Revival detailing. The table has a substantial rectangular oak top above a beautifully carved frieze, incorporating Gothic tracery, quatrefoil and foliate details. The front is centred by a panel of figured oak and flanked by pierced Gothic arches, with further matching tracery continuing around the sides. Carved across the front is the Welsh inscription: "GWNEWCH HYN ER CÔF AMDANAF" meaning "Do this in remembrance of me", the Welsh wording of the instruction at the Last Supper and particularly appropriate to its original use as a communion table. Raised on substantial square legs united by stretchers, the table has a lovely warm golden oak colour and is an impressive example of Welsh ecclesiastical furniture. Item Reference: M-7030 . Dimensions: Height - 76cm/ Width - 138cm/ Depth - 69cm . CONDITION REPORT: In good antique condition with general wear commensurate with age and use. Various marks, scratches, knocks and areas of surface wear throughout. Some minor age-related movement and wear to the timber and carved decoration, but structurally solid and sound ...
