Description

A substantial 19th century oak coffer with a lovely deep, rich colour and plenty of character from age and use. Of generously proportioned rectangular form, with a hinged two-plank top opening to reveal a large, useful storage interior. The front is simply decorated with three fielded panels, with further panelled construction to the sides. Retains a brass escutcheon to the front. A pleasingly simple and sturdy country piece, with particularly good proportions and an attractive aged surface. Item Reference: M-7038 . Dimensions: Height – 63cm/ Width - 127cm/ Depth - 59cm . CONDITION REPORT: In good, solid antique condition with considerable age-related wear and character throughout. The top has various old marks, scratches, knocks, indentations and areas of surface wear, together with age-related splits and movement between the boards. There are several deeper old knocks/losses to the top and edges, as pictured. Further scratches, marks, colour variation and wear throughout the exterior and interior consistent with age and use. Evidence of old repairs and alterations to the underside, along with evidence of historic woodworm - but this has long gone and been treated as ...
