Description

A beautiful satinwood card table circa 1790 with rosewood and boxwood crossbanding and stringing. The back legs fold out to support the table top when open. An unusual feature is that the table has been designed so that when closed there is a half inch overhang at the front which makes it easier to open. The back of the table is also veneered and has ebony stringing - a sure sign of quality. With the lovely warm colour and grain of the satinwood this is a striking table of the utmost quality. Height - 74cm / 29" Width - 92cm / 36.2" Depth (open) - 90.5cm / 35.5" Depth (closed) - 46cm / 18"
