Description

A Nice Vintage Cased Brass Linen Tester Loupe. The design combines a circular magnifying lens with an integrated measuring scale, intended for close inspection and basic gauging. The hinged frame folds down neatly, making it practical for carrying in a pocket, workbox, or desk drawer. The original-style fitted case with red velvet lining provides both protection and attractive presentation for display – circa 1905. * A satisfying piece of practical engineering, made to fold away as neatly as it opens. Measurements: Height (standing): 2 1/2" (approx. 6cm) Width: 1 1/2" (approx. 4cm) Weight of item: 161g Total weight (including case): 201g In good condition – The brass shows only general surface wear and patina consistent with age and careful handling.
