Description

A lovely antique bench with a wonderful rustic patina, likely dating from the late 19th Century. The seat is made from one plank of oak with a wonderfully gnarled and marked surface. It stands on shaped ends joined by a stretcher, possibly later than the seat but nonetheless the whole piece displays beautifully and is a lovely piece of country furniture. It is in good condition and it is strong and sturdy. There are some signs of historic woodworm which has all been treated as a precaution. It has been cleaned and gently polished and is ready for use. The best description comes from the photos so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions just ask. Nationwide delivery available through our network of reliable couriers. Please get in touch for an accurate quote to your location.
