Description

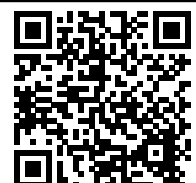

We are pleased to offer for sale an amazing panoramic view across the Thames towards Waterloo Bridge London. This fine example captures the late evening sunset in beautifully painted oils on canvas, capturing a distant view of Waterloo Bridge with the landscaped shoreline silhouetted on the distant horizon. The artist has painted a large three masted vessel which is moored in the foreground with a small tug boat sitting tethered alongside in its shadow. The quality is clearly seen in the way the skilled artist has depicted the gently rippling still waters and the reflection and glow of the setting sun bouncing off of the river. A superbly painted skyline which looks absolutely as it should, clouds correctly formed consistent with the weather conditions. FRAME A solid original period wooden frame painted in cream with a light gold beval edge.
