Description

Antique Victorian Small Flame Mahogany Sideboard Cupboard An Exceptional Mahogany Sideboard Dating To C1870. An exceptionally fine quality Victorian Flame Mahogany sideboard, dating to circa 1870. Standing at just 107 cm wide and 43 cm deep, this is an unusually small and remarkably rare example of Victorian cabinetmaking, offering the grandeur of a full-sized sideboard in a compact, highly versatile footprint. The piece features a solid Mahogany top with its front edge elegantly lipped in crossbanded Flame Mahogany, sitting above a single, shaped front hidden drawer. The drawer front is veneered in rich Flame Mahogany and exhibits outstanding craftsmanship, opening smoothly to reveal solid Ash linings with exceptionally fine hand-cut dovetails. Flanking the drawer are hand-carved acanthus leaf corbels that frame the twin cupboard doors below. The doors feature round-arched Flame Mahogany field panels displaying a striking, symmetrical grain configuration. Inside, the cupboard opens to a clean interior fitted with a single removable shelf, offering ample practical storage despite its rare, small proportions. The doors retain their original, fully operational brass lever...
