Date of manufacture: 18th Century

Description

An antique 18th Century Derby dish, pattern 10, handpainted with flowers inside a green foliage swag and pink banded border. The blue mark, seen to the rear, was used between 1782 and 1800. Condition is good. There is some wear to pattern and gilding, and some long craze lines present in the glaze, especially where it has pooled and is slightly thicker. The crazing is not all over. There are two small nicks to the footrim of the dish (pictured). All items can be posted safely worldwide.
