Description

A superb and rare silver filigree and micro mosaic bracelet, dating to circa 1920 and stamped 800. The bracelet is finely constructed with five oval micro mosaic panels, each beautifully depicting a floral arrangement of a delicate pink rose and white daisy with a yellow centre, set amongst variegated green foliage. Each panel is finished with an elegant black edged border. The finely executed micro mosaic panels are framed within equally intricate silver filigree settings, joined by matching smaller hinged sections. The quality and delicacy of the filigree workmanship are particularly impressive and characteristic of fine Italian craftsmanship of the period. The bracelet is completed with a spring loaded clasp to one end and a ring fastening to the other. This stunning Italian micro mosaic bracelet is in excellent original condition, with its beautifully preserved micro mosaics and fine filigree work.
