Description

Antique 19th century Victorian washstand in mahogany, a graceful and beautifully shaped piece with an elegant serpentine front. Well made and of good quality, it has the refined proportions and decorative detail that give Victorian furniture such lasting appeal. A carved central pillar adds an eye-catching focal point to the design, while the raised gallery to the top creates a smart, well-finished profile. Together, these details give the washstand a particularly distinctive appearance without taking away from its elegant shape. The mahogany displays a rich, warm colour with gorgeous natural grain throughout, bringing depth and character to the piece. Its flowing form and attractive detailing make it a highly desirable addition to a bedroom, dressing room or reception room. Presented in good condition, this lovely Victorian washstand would bring a sense of antique elegance and warmth wherever it is placed.
