Description

Antique 20th century pair of Windsor armchairs in elm, a highly desirable and increasingly rare find. Well made and of good quality, these beautiful matching chairs have the timeless appeal and inviting comfort associated with classic Windsor furniture. Each chair stands on cabriole legs, joined by supporting stretchers that provide strength and stability. The beautiful stick-back backs create the distinctive Windsor silhouette, giving the pair an elegant yet wonderfully characterful appearance. The elm displays a rich, warm colour with gorgeous natural grain throughout, adding depth and individuality to each chair. Their graceful proportions and traditional design make them a striking pair that would suit a wide range of interiors. Presented in good condition, these lovely armchairs would look wonderful beside a fireplace, in a reading corner or around a dining table, bringing warmth, comfort and antique charm to the room.
