Description

Good decorative French painted wrought iron and marble top console table, circa 1920. The wrought iron is painted in a French grey green and compliments the figured marble top. The shaped and edged marble top is in good condition and has both of its back corners (2cm) cut at an angle, which I assume was for it to fit into a dado rail or wall frame moulding at some point. Nothing of any concern, but just mentioning it. The wrought iron base is simply made and if you are not keen on the colour, it can be painted any colour you like...priced as you see it here though! Stands well and with many uses this console will work anywhere, also handy if you don't want a "heavy" looking wood console table for a smaller hall way for example. Measurements: 32 1/4 inches or 82 cm high 48 1/4 inches or 122.5 cm wide 21 1/2 inches or 54.5 cm deep
