Description

Super quality with the makers stamp to both drawers of this Victorian walnut desk of sensible, usable proportions. Jas Shoolbred & Co of London made quality pieces and this one fits into that catalogue with first class the timber being used, well cast hardware and overall excellent craft and build. The desk sits in good order with the walnut of strong tone, the leather top a little marked and faded but perfectly usable and the strong turned legs terminating on the original castors. A nice looking desk - there is a working key to both locks albeit a little tight. A quality English desk c1880.
