Description

Antique 20th century good quality side table in walnut, a distinctive and beautifully crafted piece with an eye-catching design. Very well made and of good quality, its unusual form gives it plenty of decorative appeal while remaining practical and versatile. The star-shaped top is a particularly attractive feature, enhanced with beautiful crossbanding that adds definition and detail to the design. Beneath, the piece is supported by an elegant tripod base, creating a balanced silhouette and complementing the shape above. The walnut displays gorgeous natural grain and a rich, warm colour throughout, with the figuring of the timber adding further depth and character. Its combination of quality craftsmanship, unusual shape and decorative detailing makes it a very desirable example. In good condition, this striking walnut side table has plenty of individuality and would make a perfect addition to any home.
