Description

This is a superb and very rare example of a Victorian Westminster chime Vienna regulator clock clock by the German clockmaker Keinzle. This is a rare clock that Westminster chimes on every quarter hour and strikes on the hour, the mellow sound resonates beautifully. The walnut case has a wonderful rich colour and patina and the grain really does shine through, this is complimented by the original white enamel dial with a contrasting gilt centre piece and this theme is carried on through to the pendulum. The dial is in perfect condition with no chips or cracks. It is spring driven with a compensated pendulum. The movement has just been professionally serviced and is in perfect running condition so you can be assured that this clock will give trouble free service for many years to come. The clock comes with its original dial, pendulum and glass and a winding key. This is an extremely rare clock and in 10 years we have never seen a Westminster chiming Vienna Regulator. It is keeping accurate time. Overall this is an outstanding clock in superb condition, if I have to be super critical there is evidence of some very old extinct woodworm holes but this is not really no...
