Description

A stunning pair of English binoculars or field glasses dating to around 1900. Made from polished brass, they have been meticulously re-polished to gleam, which looks stunning paired with the cognac coloured leather. They focus wonderfully and adjust to fit comfortably across the bridge of the nose, there are also integral brass sun shades to reduce glare in bright light and sunshine. There are also eye shields that swivel across to the outside when in use and swivel back to the centre for packing away in the case. They come complete with a really wonderful brown leather carrying case with the inside of the lid being signed Ross / Manufacturing Optician / Clapham Common / London. Excellent condition measuring 5 1/4" wide x 6" tall extending to 7 1/4". The case measures 8 3/4" tall x 6" wide. The optics are in perfect working order.
