Description

A stunning Regency period card table in Rosewood. The top swivels and folds over to reveal the green baize surface which is bordered with a gold tooled band of leather. The table stands on an unusual semi- circular support below which is a platform with 4 swept legs terminating in superbly cast brass castors. The platform is mounted with 8 brass paterei. This table is in absolutely untouched condition and has only one small blemish which is a small amount of fading to the central section of the green baize (as shown in picture 3) circa 1810
