Description

A good example of a substantial solid oak crafted welsh dresser, complete with original back. Made in a dark-medium oak honey colour and of a heavy guage of planking. Has a nice little central upper lockable cupboard and decorated with barleytwist columns. The lower base unit has two upper large drawers, beneath which are two deep & spacious lockable cupboards, having a block work pattern. There are solid brass toggle handles for pulling open the drawers & cupboards. All nicely waxed and with a good clean main polished surface, having an old repair to leg support, but all still solid and having a lovely patina and rich grain.
