Description

* FREE DELIVERY TO MOST OF THE U.K. * Envelope Card Table - Gorgeous Frame - c1860 This mahogany Victorian period envelope folding card table is presented in lovely order. The piece makes a very attractive hallway, study, lamp or occasional table and converts to a fine card and games table with a rotating top section which folds over to reveal a blue velvet baize interior with coin or chip scoops to the perimeter. The table rides upon a magnificent base with carved double cabriole legs, united with a sweeping lower cross-brace joined within a lower tier. The whole sits over original brass castors. The table top turns through a quarter turn when used in the open position and this movement provides under-support to the folding leaves which, in conjunction with the quality inset brass hinging, gives a very stable surface. A lower drawer is set into the serpentine skirt. It benefits from a backplate brass handle fitting and is a useful depth. The table is of excellent craftsmanship and the hand carving detail and the overall shape of the piece make it stand out as a quality design. The table is presented in excellent order with great colour. There are a couple of...
