Description

This is a beautiful restored Collard & Collard Antique Square Piano dating Approx.1850 The case has undergone a tasteful refurb being french polished but not stripped or over restored. The internal restoration involved a full restring and the action was rebuilt and dampers were replaced . There is a full written report along with photos during the rebuild which occurred in the year 2000. Lucy Code, based in Bristol, carried out all the work over quite a few months at a total cost of some £4,000, and all works undertaken are detailed in a bound copy of a typed report with photos.
